DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The terms "but" and "if" in claim 5, is vague and indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 2834

5. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Denk.

Denk discloses an hybrid synchronous motor with toroidal winding comprising a rotor (22) and a stator (28), the stator having at least one assembly of coaxially displaced ferromagnetic rings (30) which are cogged (50) both on inner and outer circumferences thereof, and the assembly being provided with a polyphase toroidal coil (32,34) made of coil segments so that a coil wire is lying between cogs (between 50).

Regarding claim 2, Denk discloses a plurality of the stator assemblies have a common toroidal coil which is formed around all of them simultaneously, and wherein the shaped common toroidal coil is wound around or assembled from U copper parts.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Denk in view of danilevich et al.

Denk discloses every aspect of the claimed invention except for the gaps between rotor and stator are filled with a ferromagnetic liquid.

Art Unit: 2834

Danilevich et al. disclose the gaps between rotor and stator are filled with a ferromagnetic liquid.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the motor of Denk and filled the gaps between rotor and stator with a ferromagnetic liquid as taught by Danilevich et al. in order to provide the motor with improve heat exchange.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 3-4 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
